Worth Township is now officially open for appeals to the Cook County Board of Review. Taxpayers can file their appeals online at <https://appeals.cookcountyboardofreview.com/Account/LoginPage>.

The Worth Township Assessor's Office is happy to assist Worth Township residents file your appeal at no cost. We ask that you please contact our office by Monday November 17th, to ensure that your appeal can be processed prior to the deadline. You can file an appeal through our office by emailing assessorworth@worthtownship.com with the following information: Name, Address, PIN Number of the property if you have it, your email address and phone number. You can also leave a voice message requesting an appeal be filed by calling 708-371-5557 and leaving the same information. Of course, you are also welcome to visit us in person at the Township Assessors' Office at 11601 S. Pulaski, on the west side of the building Monday - Thursday 8am - 3:30pm, Fridays 8am – 1pm, although we ask your patience when appealing in person, as we expect long lines throughout the appeal period. All appeal requests will be processed as they are received regardless of whether they are in person, via voicemail or via email.

Note: We have not received any information from Cook County as to when the 2nd Installment Tax Bill will be sent out to residents. If we receive any information we will post it immediately.

We look forward to hearing from you and working with you to appeal your residential property tax assessment to the Cook County Board of Review so that you can receive a fair assessment. We are here to serve you!
